

Title: Challenges in homogeneous catalysis with precious metal catalysts

Abstract: Homogeneous catalysis with transition metals is a critical tool for the synthesis of fine chemicals. The talk will address the environmental and economic sustainability challenges (real and perceived) of the use of precious metals in catalysis, as well as the directions of development of the technology.